PRICE THREE CENTS.

SCALE OF PUDDLERS.

Question Settled After an All-Night Conference.

REDUCTION IS ACCEPTED.

Manufacturers Refuse to Recede From Their Position and the Men by a Close Vote Finally Accept Their Offer.

Youngstown, O., Aug. 2.—It was daylight before the iron manufacturers and the puddlers of the Amalgamated association conference committee agreed on a scale for puddling. There were 25 puddlers on the Amalgamated committee of 100, and the puddlers had the say about accepting or rejecting the proposition directly affecting them. The puddlers made several attempts to effect a compromise and obtain $1.25 a ton for puddling, but the manufacturers positively refused to recede from their demand for a reduction from $4.50 to $4. When the puddlers held their last secret meeting to consider the matter, the vote stood 13 to 12 in favor of taking the whole reduction, and this portion of the difficulty was at an end.

The new scale adopted is as follows: $4.25 on a 1 cent card rate; $4.25 on a one and one-tenth card rate; $4.75 on a one and three-tenths rate; $5 on a one and four-tenths rate, and $5.25 on a one and five-tenths rate, a one cent card rate meaning when bar iron is selling for 1 cent a pound, etc. It is expected the puddlers' scale will be adjusted and the whole trouble brought to an end.

AT TURTLE CREEK.

Thousands of Miners March to Camp Determination.

Pittsburg, Aug. 2.—All roads led to Turtle Creek. Marching miners from all over the district were converging toward Camp Determination, and if all those reported as being on the march reach the scene before morning, there will be at least 6,000 diggers present at the big meeting which is scheduled for 11 a. m. at McCrea's schoolhouse. The miners expect 8,000 to be on hand.

The borough of Turtle Creek experienced the largest day in its history with its large transient population of miners and curious visitors, but the day passed without trouble of any kind. Burgess Teats of the borough visited the miners' camp and said he had no reason to order the crowd to disband, and as long as peace prevails he will not disturb them.

There was a complete shift in the makeup of the campers. The men from the Wheeling division of the Baltimore and Ohio, who have been on guard ever since the big movement against the DeArmitt men was inaugurated, left for their homes at Finleyville, Gasconville, Snowden, Whitehall and Banksville. The same men, after reaching home and recuperating somewhat, have formed new divisions and are returning to the seat of war in order to attend the big meeting.

Over 1,000 weary strikers were quartered at Camp Determination and about 100 at Camp Desperation, and about 400 lounged about the hills above and below Turtle Creek.

When the first batch of 650 marchers arrived on the scene they were very hungry and clamored for food. There were provisions enough left for 200 men and a grand rush was made for the provision wagon, and the result was many went hungry. About this time Organizer Miller arrived on the scene and announced that a Pittsburg baker had donated 1,000 loaves of bread, and a grocer had given a dozen cheese.

To prevent another rush Miller organized a guard, and all were satisfied for the time being. As large donations of food have been promised, there is not likely to be a repetition of the scramble.

Among the most prominent visitors on the miners' Turtle Creek camp were General John Little, president, and Joseph Bishop, secretary, of the state board of arbitration. They are ready to solicit subscribers to the uniformity agreement, and were present to get the status of affairs among the strikers. General Little expressed some surprise at the demonstration. He said he had often seen miners on strike in the Buckeye state but had never seen them assembled under such circumstances. He said he was pleased with the apparent manifestations of peace.

Sheriff Harvey A. Lowry spent the afternoon in Turtle Creek consulting with his deputies. Chief Deputy James Richards was in the district all night. Sheriff Lowry said that he would not interfere with the strikers in holding meetings if they acted orderly. He will not allow them to go on the property of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company nor will he allow them to act disorderly while marching on the road.

E. B. DeArmitt, manager of the Oak Hill mine said that he had been informed by men for positions in the mine. He said he had given 15 of them places and they would go to work in the morning. He added that two men had offered to supply him with 50 good miners to go to work Thursday. He was receiving letters in every mail from miners in various portions of the district asking for places in the New York and Cleveland mines. Concerning the action of some of his men he said they had come to him saying that they would be glad to work as soon as the excitement is over. He was emphatic in the statement if the old men did not return to work soon he had many others who would take their places.

FREIGHT CARS

Eldorado, Kan., Aug. 2.—The Missouri Pacific passenger train which left here for Kansas City at 10:30 p. m. crashed into four loaded freight cars which had been left carelessly standing on the main track at Yates Center, resulting in a wreck that will cost the lives of two workmen.

The passenger train was running at a speed of 3 miles an hour. The locomotive and baggage car were telescoped, and the wreck caught fire, burning the baggage car and the four freight cars and destroying the locomotive and tender.

Engineer Jasper Clover and Fireman Cal Bowman, both men of family living in Eldorado, were probably fatally injured. Both were found in an unconscious condition, lying beside the wreck. Clover was dismembered and terribly scalded and Rowan had one foot severed from his body and was terribly bruised. Conductor Anderson and the baggage and express men suffered painful bruises, but all the passengers escaped serious injury. Clover and Rowan were sent to a hospital in Kansas City.

Slightly Attended.

New York, Aug. 2.—The second day of the Socialist labor convention was slightly attended. Julius Freedman of Philadelphia was in the chair. It is claimed that the 50 delegates, who hail from Newark, Boston, Philadelphia, New Haven, Hartford and Haverhill, Mass., represent 25,000 Jewish trades unionists who were recently expelled from the Socialist Labor party for protesting against the methods of certain labor leaders. The principal object of the meeting is to determine whether they should join the Debs movement or form an independent organization.

Strike of Pants Makers.

New York, Aug. 2.—The general strike of the pantsmakers' union, a branch of the Socialist Trades alliance, went into effect in the 250 shops in the Greater New York district. The strikers believe they can end the sweating system and restore the old rate of wages. Under the present system they are able to make only $1.50 for a week's work. Under the old schedule the operators made from $10 to $12 a week.

Steamer to Be Sold.

Bremerton, Wash., Aug. 2.—The United States coast survey steamer Hassler, now lying at the Puget Sound naval station, is to be sold to the highest bidder. The treasury department has authorized bids to be received by her commanding officer up to noon of Aug. 16.

The Lima Gazette yesterday contained a paragraph stating that the farmers of the Western states were enjoying an era of prosperity, and that evidence of the truth of the statement was that a large number of mortgages had been canceled. The same statement was made two weeks ago by the metropolitan Republican papers in an effort to push along the McKinley prosperity wagon. A bit of investigation into the claim proves that a number of mortgages were canceled in the West, but it also proved the dismal fact that the cancellations were made by the mortgage holders, who had bought in the property under foreclosure suits, the amount usually paid being just enough to pay the amount of their loan with costs. The "prosperity" that those Western farmers enjoyed was in seeing their earnings of years swept away in a moment, and the farms they had cleared and cultivated pass into the hands of their creditors, because under the blight of the single gold standard course they had not been able to have their farm products bring them enough money to pay their interest and the bare cost of a scanty living.

That is McKinley prosperity as it works in the West where corn commands so small a price that it will not pay for the cutting and is often used for fuel. The way the same blight is affecting the farmers and other real estate owners in Ohio is demonstrated by figures compiled in the secretary of state's office which show that in the past year the mortgage indebtedness in the state of Ohio, with all her mineral, agricultural and manufacturing resources, has increased nearly twenty millions of dollars. The mortgages canceled during the year in Ohio amounted to $39,255,923.90, and the new mortgages recorded amounted to $78,744,608.32.

These are facts substantiated by the figures from the office of a Republican secretary of state and are not conjectures nor bald statements made for political effect. The figures on various conveyances, mortgages and leases in the state during the year ending June 30, 1897, compiled by statisticians in the Secretary of State's office are as follows: The number of leases of agricultural lands recorded during the year ending June 30, 1897, was 546; total amount of consideration, $141,634.26; number of leases of "town acres," 111; amount of consideration, $16,673; city, town and village lots, 1,040; amount of consideration, $1,373,126.75; mineral, oil and other lands, 5,809; amount of consideration, $1,179,587.99. Total number of leases recorded, 7,506; total consideration, $2,710,972.

The number of mortgages cancelled on agricultural lands was 19,511; amount of indebtedness thus released, $21,453,548.08; the number on town acres was 412; amount released, $794,519.22; on city, town and village lots, 31,148; amount released, $23,722,248.89; number of complicated mortgages released, 222; indebtedness discharged, $3,235,607.71. Total number of mortgages canceled, 51,323; total amount of indebtedness released, $29,255,923.90.

Number mortgages recorded on agricultural lands, 28,479; amount secured, $24,242,956.28; on town acres, 537; amount secured, $692,872.62; city, town and village lots, 44,277; amount secured, $44,881,662.24; complicated mortgages, 465; amount secured, $9,927,027.18. Total number of mortgages recorded, 71,568; total amount secured, $78,744,608.32. Sales of Agricultural Lands—Number of deeds recorded, 28,142; number of acres sold, 1,302,775; amount of value, $59,517,756.41

Sales of Town Acres—Number of deeds recorded, 1,344; number of acres sold, 8,497; amount of consideration, $1,777,332.29

Sales of City, Town and Village Lots—Number of deeds recorded, 45,707; amount of consideration $56,530,901.22.

Complicated or Mixed Conveyances—Number of deeds recorded, 1,418; acres sold, 3,551; amount, $3,873,332.71.

Summary of Deeds Recorded—Number of deeds recorded on $1 considerations, 14,217; number exclusive of $1 consideration sales, 76,611; total value of all conveyances, $101,709,289.63.

The increase is enormous, even appalling, and is an unanswerable argument against a further continuance of the gold bug rule.

RIGHT OF WAY.

cost of this route will be enormous, but from the manner in which the railroad company is proceeding it is evident that the expense is no object. A crossing will be put in at the point near St. Johns avenue and if the road proceeds north from that point, parallel with the O. H. & D., the brick block owned by H. C. Napier, on east Kibby street, will be removed, and that will be but a small item when compared with the expense that will be necessitated by the removal of buildings and the cost of property north of Hog creek.

Most, if not all of the property owners between Kibby street and Hog creek have already been visited by the right of way agent, and some property has been contracted for and others have been made for others. The route cuts 50 feet off of the lots abutting the west side of Jackson street, between Kibby and Eureka streets, and will necessitate the removal of some houses along Lanny avenue.

It is possible that the company will secure right of way from Vine street to the Dayton Northern depot and use the Dayton Northern track as an entrance for west bound, and an exit for east bound L. E. & W. trains. This could be done with but little change from the present running of trains, the present freight house could be used and would be in the same close communication with the L. E. & W. yards.

It is evident that the L. E. & W. people desire to begin work on the new right of way as soon as possible, for some of the owners of property along the proposed right of way have been notified that in case the company's offer for their property is not accepted by Wednesday of this week, condemnation proceedings will be commenced in court at once.

"I'M GUILTY"

"And I Deserve the Punishment," Said Les Ward.

HE WILL GO TO DAYTON

To Serve a Term of Thirty Days in the Work House—Mrs. Hamilton, the Woman Who Has Away With Him, Has Disappeared.

Les Ward, whose being captured at Fostoria on a charge of having removed from this county a team of horses on which two chattel mortgages were held, was brought here on L. E. & W. train this morning, in charge of marshal Bradner, of Fostoria, accompanied by patrolman Harry O'Brien. Marshal Bradner took the prisoner direct to justice Atmure's court, where the affidavit had been filed.

Ward formerly lived on Hughes avenue and was engaged in the teaming and junk business, and during the past two years was also credited by the police with being engaged in a business more shady than either of those mentioned, and he is said to be wanted now at Van Wert on a charge of chicken stealing. When he deserted his family and left this city nearly two months ago, he was accompanied by the wife of John Hamilton, of the south side. Saturday night Hamilton appeared before justice Atmure and signed an affidavit charging Ward with living in adultery with Mrs. Hamilton, and when the prisoner was arraigned this morning, justice Atmure read the charge to him.

"I'm guilty," said Ward, "and I deserve punishment." Justice Atmure asked the prisoner if he desired to give him final jurisdiction in the case, whereupon Ward replied that he did and wanted the justice to be as easy on him as possible. The document was prepared and signed and justice Atmure sentenced Ward to a fine of $25 and costs and a term of thirty days in the Dayton work house.

Ward thanked the justice, and was then handcuffed and taken to the county jail to await being taken to Dayton.

Mrs. Hamilton was arrested with Ward at Fostoria, but marshal Bradner was informed that Ward only was wanted, and the woman was released. Later, when the charges of adultery were filed, she had left for parts unknown and has not yet been captured.

A SUNSTROKE

Was the Cause of the Death of Conductor Thomas Mulcahy.

Remains Interred at Gethsemani Yesterday—Large Attendance at the Funeral Services.

A post mortem examination held over the remains of conductor Thomas Mulcahy, who died suddenly at Mineral Beach, near Warsaw, Ind., proved that Mr. Mulcahy's death resulted from sunstroke. The post mortem examination was held at Mineral Beach soon after the body was found and the coroner's verdict was "death caused by sunstroke."

The information received from Mineral Beach is to the effect that conductor Mulcahy left the hotel on Thursday morning and started out for a walk. He did not return and telegrams were sent here and to Fort Wayne inquiring if he had been seen. Nothing was heard or seen of him again until Saturday, when a man who was out hunting blackberries found his dead body lying in a field some distance from the hotel. It is supposed that when he was overcome by the heat he wandered about in a semi-conscious condition and finally fell before he could reach aid or shelter.

The remains were brought here on P. 11. W. & C. train 8, Saturday night, and the funeral services were held from St. Rose church at 10 a. m. yesterday, the services being conducted by Rev. A. E. Manning. The attendance was very large. Many members of the O. R. C. were present, and the floral tributes were beautiful. The remains were interred in Gethsemani cemetery.

There was in attendance at the funeral from out of the city, were the deceased's mother, Mrs. Mulcahy, of Nevada, O.; three brothers, Pat Mulcahy, of Nevada, and Cornelius and John Mulcahy, of Mansfield. Mrs. John Fitzgerald and daughter Julia, of Richmond, Ind., and Cornelius Brean, of Marion, O.

IN MAYOR'S COURT

Several Cases Were Disposed of This Morning.

"I'M A DEAD GAME SPORT,"

Said a Gay Married Man, From Dayton—"I'm something of a Sport Myself," said the Mayor—"Ten Days or Twenty Dollars."

According to his own story, Frank Young, a married man about 35 years of age, who lives at 666 south Williams street, Dayton, O., came to this city last Wednesday with a pocket full of money and a determination to take in the sights and show the Lima people what a "dead game sport" he is. He visited some relatives here, who, by the way, are good, reputable citizens, and then made the rounds of the "bawdy" district. Yesterday he hired a horse and then picked up two young men about town to help him spend his money. He wound up in the evening at Ella Cheney's place, opposite the P., Ft. W. & O. depot, with a comfortable jag and, so far as is known, about $2 in money. He bought beer for the crowd and later in the evening visited the police station and claimed he had been robbed by a girl named Maud Rheinhardt, at the Cheney woman's home. He was locked up for safe keeping and the girl was arrested and locked up in the women's department.

This morning the whole crowd was summoned before the mayor and the case was given a thorough investigation but there was no evidence that the man had been robbed, or had had the amount of money he claimed to have been robbed of. Young was asked what he had to say and with a boasting air he replied:

"I'm a dead game sport and I don't think anybody should be allowed on this earth unless they are that way. I own as nice a home, my wife and me, as anybody in Dayton, and it's paid for, and any time I want to go out for a time I can go, and any day I can't go out and make four or five dollars it's got to be pretty rainy. If the girls wanted my money I'd bore it in two and give 'em half, for I'm dead game and ain't afraid to spend my money."

"I'm somewhat of a dead game sport myself," replied the mayor, "and I'll just give you a term of ten days on the stone pile. You can serve the ten days or pay a fine of twenty dollars."

Young looked rather sick after this and was as meek as a lamb when

Lieut. Wingate locked him up. He is endeavoring to secure the $20, so that he can get free and go home to his wife.

After disposing of Young so effectually, the mayor fined the Cheney woman $1 for selling beer on Sunday. She promptly paid the amount and she and the Rheinhardt girl left the office.

FINED FOR DRUNKENNESS.

Frank Chamrod, an old offender, who abuses himself by the use of strong drink and whose family is frequently abused as a result, was locked up yesterday morning on the usual charge and fined $5 this morning. He secured the amount and was released.

A COSTLY THROW.

Bert Douglass Sentenced to One Year in the Penitentiary for Stoning a Train.

Bert Douglass, the colored man, who was indicted Friday for stoning a C., H. & D. railroad train, and who pleaded guilty to the charge Saturday morning, was sentenced this morning by Judge Ritchie to serve one year in the penitentiary. Douglass was arrested for stooping a freight train in the north Lima yards. He had been put off the train by the crew and at this became offended and attempted to get revenge by throwing stones at the crew.

The sheriff will leave for the penitentiary to-morrow morning with Douglass and Bertha Johnson, the colored woman, who was sentenced to three years for shooting with intent to kill.

LINCOLN'S HUMOR IN LAW.

It Was Only Equaled by His Conscienceless-ness in Taking Cases.

Even as early as 1852 Lincoln had acquired a reputation for story telling. When not busy during the session of the court, he was "habitually" whispering stories to his neighbors, frequently to the annoyance of Judge Davis, who presided over the Eighth circuit. It is Lincoln's persistence too long, the judge would rap on the chair and exclaim: "Come, come, Mr. Lincoln, I can't stand this! There is no use trying to carry on two courts. I must adjourn mine or yours, and I think you will have to be the one." As soon as the group had scattered the judge would call one of the men to him and ask, "What was that Lincoln was telling?"

In his law practice Lincoln seems to have been singularly conscientious, his first effort being to try to arrange matters so as to avoid litigation. Nor would he assume a case that he felt was not founded upon right and justice.

"We will not take your case," he said to a man who had shown that by a legal technicality he could win property valued at $600. "You must remember that some things legally right are not morally right. We will not take your case, but will give you a little advice, for which we will charge you nothing. You seem to be a sprightly, energetic man. We would advise you to try your hand at making $600 in some other way."

One of the most interesting anecdotes is the one quoted from Joe Jefferson's autobiography. Jefferson and his father were playing at Springfield during the session of the legislature, and, as there was no theater in the town, had gone to the expense of building one. Hardly had this been done when a religious revival broke out. The church people condemned the theater and prevailed upon the authorities to impose a license which was practically prohibition.

"In the midst of our trouble," says Jefferson, "a young lawyer called on the managers. He had heard of the injustice and offered, if they would place the matter in his hands, to have the license taken off, declaring that he only desired to see fair play, and he would accept no fee whether he failed or succeeded. The young lawyer began his harangue. He handled the subject with tact, skill and humor, tracing the history of the drama from the time when Theopis acted in a cart to the stage of today. He illustrated his speech with a number of anecdotes and kept the council in a roar of laughter. His good humor prevailed, and the exorbitant tax was taken off. The young lawyer was Lincoln."—Pittsburg Commercial Gazette.

Spotted It All.

"Some things make a man excessively weary," said a congressman from the northwest. "I had been working for six months to get a certain postoffice established out in my district, and finally succeeded, and the department sent out blank bonds to the man who was to be appointed."

"There had been some trouble about the name of the office to be established. The people wanted a name which conflicted with some other office, and the postoffice department selected another name for them. All this had been carefully explained to the people and to the would be postmaster through many letters."

"Now, what do you suppose that fellow did? He secured bondsmen all right, but carefully marked out the name of the office selected by the department wherever it occurred and inserted the name he had asked for at first. I suppose he thought he was too smart for any government official. But it will be a long time before he gets his commission or the people get the office."—Washington Post.

Taught Him Sense.

The San Francisco Examiner says that once when Chief Justice John Marshall was driving the hub of his wheel caught on a small sapling growing by the roadside. After striving unsuccessfully for some moments to extricate the wheel, he heard the sound of an ax in the woods and saw a negro approaching. Hailing him, he said, "If you will get that ax and cut down this tree, I'll give you $1." "I can't get it without no ax, ef dat's all yer want." "Yes, that's all," said the judge. The man simply backed the horse until the wheel was clear of the sapling, and then brought the vehicle safely around it. "You don't charge $1 for that, do you?" asked the astonished chief justice. "No, massa, but it's wuf $1 to larn some folks sense." The quick witted darky got his dollar without further questioning.

A New Insurance Method.

A man who lives in Chapin street started down town the other morning and, as is his custom, stopped in the corner drug store to buy a cigar. Then he came out, a stylish cart drawn by two splendid horses was passing. The man who was driving it reined in his horses.

"Don't you want to ride?" he asked. The man who was on his way down town looked all around, for the other was a stranger to him, and he thought, must be addressing somebody else. Nobody else was in sight. The man with the horses repeated his invitation, and the Chapin street man climbed in. The driver inquired his destination and offered to take him for a spin before setting him down there.

"Smoke?" he asked. The Chapin street man said he did, whereupon a silver mounted cigar case was brought out, and he was given his choice of one of the best cigars he ever smoked. They talked of this and that, the two of them, and presently the business of the man with the horses came out. He is in insurance, and of course the Chapin street man is going to insure in his company. It was all an advertising scheme and a very clever one.—Washington Post.

A Wrongly Spelled Name.

Through the blunder of some unknown person, committed years ago, a glaring piece of inexcusable poor spelling is still on view in the finance committee room in the city hall and is a subject of much unfavorable comment by historical scholars. The portrait of the Rev. Henry Augustus Muhlenberg hung for many years in Independence hall as a tribute to the preacher patriot's services during the Revolution, with his name beneath it spelled "Henry Muhlenburg." The same egregious errors are now visible in the city hall. The Rev. Henry Augustus Muhlenberg was one of the first Lutheran ministers in this country. On one occasion he carried a gun into his pulpit at Reading and at the conclusion of the services invited all his male parishioners to follow him to Valley Forge, which they did. Dr. Muhlenberg was also the first speaker of the house of representatives of the United States after the constitution was adopted in 1783, and his name is at least worthy of sufficient remembrance to be spelled correctly.—Philadelphia Record.

Seemed to Be On Fire.

"I suffered very much with a blood disorder. At times my skin seemed to be on fire. I saw Hood's Sarsaparilla advertised and determined to try it. I found that it purified my blood and relieved that tired feeling. I have given it to my little girl for pain in the side and it relieved her." Dell C. Umbaugh, Nankin, Ohio.

He Had An Object.

"Why are you sprinkling your lawn so constantly?" asked Mr. Dukane of Mr. Gaswell. "It has rained so much lately that it surely does not need water."

"No; it does not need the water," was the reply.

"Then why are you working the sprinkler?"

"Well, the soil is very thin on my lawn and the grass does not grow vigorously. So I thought I would sprinkle it liberally while the water was so muddy, and thus put a good layer of up-river earth on it."

BREAKING BRONCHOS.

Corporate Struggle Between the Wild Horse and Its Trainer.

From the day of its birth the broncho knows life as a constant battle for existence. Wolves and coyotes ceaselessly watch for opportunities to tear it down, bears and mountain lions lurk by the watercourses and on the foothills to devour it, rattlesnakes infect all the good grazing lands, badgers dig treacherous traps for its feet and cruel droughts in summer and terrible blizzards in winter assail its life.

One day in autumn, when the colts of the herd are about ready to abandon the plains and lead the way to some sheltered valley for winter quarters, the colt has a new and horrible experience. Mounted men, swinging snaky coils of rope, surround the herd, dashing through it to and fro as if selecting victims.

The colt finds himself the object of the unwelcome attentions. Suddenly something tightens about his neck, his breathing stops, the blood rushes to his brain and he plunges headlong to the ground. When he recovers, his legs are tied together; he is powerless, and the man is probably sitting on his head. Then comes a moment of sharp agony, and he is branded for life as somebody's property. In a few seconds after that cruel indignity is put upon him he finds his limbs free and is allowed to spring up and scamper away. For a year or two more he will have nothing to apprehend.

It is the intent on the great horse ranches of the west, where bronchos are raised by hundreds and even thousands, that the young animals shall be broken when 3 or 4 years old at the furthest. But the tangles upon which the animals are allowed to seek their own pasturage are of vast extent, and frequently a little band of horses will manage to seclude themselves when the spring "breaking season" arrives, so that some of them reach the age of 6 or 7 years unbroken. It is often actually impossible to conquer the wildness of such mature horses. They will fight until exhausted.

In the regular process of breaking a broncho is first lassoed in a high walled corral, thrown and "hog tied"—his feet bound together—to prevent his kicking or striking while the saddle is being strapped on him. A halter around his nose is the nearest practicable approximation to a bridle. Then he is blindfolded and allowed to rise. The hoodwink seems to stun him with surprise and alarm, so that he stands still long enough for the breaker to leap into the saddle, and the blind is at the same instant removed.

The broncho leaps high and comes down stiff legged, with his four feet close together and his back arched like a camel's hump. He bends his spine down so that it is like a cross section of a trough and then bows it up with a sudden shoot that would toss an unskillful rider far above him. Again he leaps and turns half around in the air, leaps up and sideways at the same time, up and forward, up and backward, each time coming down with his legs stiff as posts; makes an enormous jump and, landing on his fore feet, kicks with his hind ones as if trying to reach the sky, dashes ahead a few wild plunges and stops suddenly and is liable at any moment to rear straight up and throw himself backward to catch and mash the rider he cannot unseat.—New York Herald.

"Not Worth a Curse."

Curse, anything worthless. Corruption of the old English word kerse, a small, sour wild cherry; French, cerise; German, kirsch. "Vision of Piers Plowman."

Wisdom and wit now is not worth a kerse. But if it be carded with coars as cloths. Kembe their words.

The expression "not worth a curse" used frequently nowadays is therefore not properly profane, though it is frequently intensified by a profane expletive. Horne Tooke says from kerse or cress. The expression "not worth a tinker's curse" may or may not have arisen from misapplication of the word's origin, though as now used it certainly means curse in its usual sense.

Tinkers do curse, unfortunately, and it will take a good deal of school board work to educate them out of it as well as a fair amount of time. The phrase "not worth a tinker's damn" is evidently a variation of this, unless, indeed, it should be spelled "dam" and used as a reference to the general worthlessness of the wives and mothers of tinkers. The latter is merely offered to those who are speculative in such matters and is not advanced as an opinion.—Slang Dictionary.

Serious.

Bildeck—I saw the doctor's carriage at your house yesterday. Anything serious?

Gasser—I should say so. He wanted to collect his bill.—London Tit-Bits.

In England 233 families live in houses which pay more than $5,000 a year rent, while 3,625,000 pay less than $100 a year for their houses.

Probably no woman who uses Pearlina would take anything else, knowingly. But since Pearlina has become a household word, the ignorant and the careless suffer. The ignorant think that "Pearline" means any washing-powder; the careless fail to notice that they're getting an inferior article, instead of Pearlina.

THE BEST OF TRUMPS.

St. Valentine,
O saint benign,
How much we mortals owe to thee!
What blessings great
Should I be thy fate!
What love from all should go to thee!

Just glance around,
Gaze over the ground
And see
What life would be
Were't not for thee!

Look first on men,
And witness then
How into classes twain—
Both vast—
Men are divided in these days!

You'll stand amazed!
They toil from morn to night—
Or else they loaf with all their might—
Their noses grinding on the stone,
A mass of tolling sin and bone,
Or else, impatient of the toil of life,
In clubs take refuge from all strife,
Their trump a spade or club.
Aye, there's the rub!

And made these days?
Poor souls! Their ways
Sometimes compel the thought
That they are far more easy caught
By glittering things—
By trinkets, rings—
Than by a rat's bit for wings;
Their trump the diamond!

Then you come
With Cupid in your train, and take the numb
And say hearts of all mankind.
And bring the thought of Love—sweet Love,
The blind.
One snap upon fair Cupid's string,
And passionate thoughts take wing.
And, spite of diamonds, clubs and spades,
Hearts are the trumps of men and maids.

Ah, Valentine,
Thou saint benign,
How much we mortals owe to thee!
What blessings great
Should I be thy fate!
What love from all should go to thee!

The following Japanese-English advertisement of a tooth paste recently appeared in a Japanese paper: "In the east there was no good sanitary tooth paste that was sure to cure and safe to use, so our company resolved to prepare a good natured paste and succeeded. The efficiency of this paste are as following: Firstly, to strengthen and preserve the nature of the tooth; secondly, to fight the tooth with thimbings; thirdly, to defend a hemorrhage arisen by friction; fourthly, to take away the offensive smell of the mouth; fifthly, to defend the putrefaction of tooth and so prevent the carious one. Any one who uses this paste will certainly discover that it is of every way useful and valuable nature by his practice. To use this paste it is necessary to vintse the mouth, will wait after rubbing the tooth carefully by the tooth brush."—New York Tribune.

Identical Motives.

When the Indian football team from Carlisle, Pa., came to Chicago to wipe out the gridiron with their paleface brethren from Wisconsin university, the copper colored visitors received a great deal of attention at the hands of the young women students of Dr. Harper's school.

A group of the girls surrounded one of the swarthy athletes, and, having taken him prisoner, began to cross question him.

"Tell me," remarked one gushing, radiant creature, "why do you red people paint your faces when you go on the warpath?"

"For the same reason, I presume, that you white ladies powder your faces when you go upon the warpath in society," quietly replied the Indian.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Court Presentations.

Here is one of the posers which I occasionally find in my letter box, says London Truth:

"Some young married ladies—quite loyal to the queen—beg Truth to tell them what is the good of being present at two of them have been teased to go through this ceremony."

Personally I do not know what return is to be gained by the process at all commensurate with the expense involved. As, however, a young married lady's point of view may possibly be different from mine, I have sought further information among my feminine acquaintances. As far as I can make out from the information I have obtained, the chief advantage of being presented is that it enables a young lady, married or otherwise, to make her husband or father, as the case may be, pay for a magnificent frock, which she would hardly be able to get out of him under any other circumstances. It also enables her to be photographed in this frock and become an object of envy and admiration to her less fortunate female acquaintances. Of course the frock, after it has served its original purpose, will, in the hands of a judicious owner, come in useful on many subsequent occasions. I must leave my correspondents to decide for themselves whether the possession of such a frock is worth the worry and anxiety incidental to being presented or whether it is better to stay away and set out to further teasing.

SECOND SEASHORE EXCURSION

Via Pennsylvania Lines Thursday, August 12th.

Choice of Ten Popular Ocean Resorts—$13 Round Trip from Lima.

The first Seashore Excursion over the Pennsylvania Lines was a grand success. Nearly two thousand persons took advantage of the extremely low rates and enjoyed delightful trips to the most popular summer havens along the Atlantic coast.

The second excursion over the Pennsylvania route will be run Thursday, August 12th. Two more resorts have been added to the list of points to which tickets will be sold, making a total of ten resorts, all of which are well known places of summer sojourns, viz., Atlantic City, Cape May, Avalon, Andrews, Ocean City, Sea Isle City, Holly Beach, Wildwood, New Jersey, and Rehoboth Beach, Delaware, and Ocean City, Maryland, the latter two being the new additions to the list. The round trip rate will be only $12 from Lima to either resort, the return limit covering twelve days including date of sale. Through train and through car service for this excursion will be very convenient. Pullman Vestibule Sleeping Cars and Pennsylvania Standard Coach will be run without charge through Pittsburgh and Philadelphia to Atlantic City on Train No. 8 leaving Lima at 2:30 p. m., August 12th. Excursion tickets will also be good going August 12th, on any through train except the Pennsylvania Limited.

The date of the second excursion is particularly convenient. Business practically at a standstill during the middle of August. It is the season of rest in the city and country, and a week or two can not be spent more pleasantly nor profitably than at one of these attractive ocean resorts. The interesting breezes from the sea, the myriads of interesting sights and the opportunity for health giving recreation make these seashore excursions ideal vacation trips. For persons who participate in them will return to their homes strengthened in both mind and body for a renewal of the strenuous attendant upon the opening of the fall and winter seasons.

For detailed information regarding tickets, time of trains and other particulars apply to F. A. Schenck, Ticket Agent, Lima, or address O. L. Kimball, Assistant General Passenger Agent, Cleveland, O.

THE DEATH ROLL.

W. W. Reeder, of West Cairo, Dies Very Suddenly.

ILL ONLY A FEW MOMENTS.

Death of Mrs. Elizabeth Benedict — Ed. Kiplinger, a former Lima man, died in Colorado — Funeral of Mrs. David Apple.

Wesley W. Reeder, proprietor of a drug store and a prominent resident at West Cairo, six miles north of this city, died very suddenly and unexpectedly yesterday morning of heart trouble. Mr. Reeder was well and favorably known in this city. He was a resident of Cairo for many years and was a prominent member of the Knights of the Golden Eagle Lodge in that village. During the recent trial of the Hawk murder case in common pleas court here Mr. Reeder served faithfully as a juror and will be remembered by the other jurors who served in this case as a strong-minded man and possessed of excellent personalities and good judgment.

Saturday Mr. Reeder was at his place of business during almost the entire day, and remarked that his health and happiness had not been nearer to perfection for years. Yesterday morning he was awakened about 7 o'clock and remarked to Mrs. Reeder that if they were going to church they would better get up and get breakfast over. He started to raise himself up but laid down again, complaining of illness. He grew worse rapidly and a physician was sent for, but before he arrived Mr.

Judge Ritchie this morning made the injunction petitioned for by Deisel against Barth, perpetual. The injunction was to restrain Barth from using a cigar label and trade mark that was in imitation of the San Felice label or trade mark. Mr. Barth in his answer to the petition said the allegations of the plaintiff were true and in this answer the judge made the injunction perpetual.

The court overruled the demurrer in the case of Andrew W. Freyman against Dan Levy, et al.

Judgment was confirmed in the case of Catherine Waltman against James B. Wickman and Anna Wickman.

TO-MORROW'S GAMES.

St. Marys at Lima. Piqua at Wapakoneta.

The Northwestern Ohio League was opened yesterday afternoon by Piqua playing at St. Marys and Lima playing at Wapakoneta. Both of the visiting teams won and start off at the head of the league. The results of both games were somewhat of a surprise, as it is generally conceded that visiting teams cannot win at either St. Marys or Wapakoneta. But the games yesterday proved this contrary. The Lima boys at Wapakoneta were treated as courteously as could be desired. The players' grounds were kept clear and each team was given an opportunity to win on its merits. The league will create much interest in the sport and better ball and less quarrelling can be expected. The independent umpire system will relieve the obnoxious "kicking," and spectators will now see a ball game instead of a fusing match.

To the Wapakoneta rooters it was a hard game to lose, yet they took their defeat very gracefully. Lyons, who is generally an excellent pitcher, seemed to have an off day yesterday and had to retire to the bench in the middle of the fifth inning, when Patterson took his place.

The Wapak team, like Lima, has to contend with "knockers," as was shown by several persons in the grand stand when they saw their team was losing. A good word to their boys would have borne much better fruit.

The game was filled with exciting plays and difficult catches. Lima had a double play to her credit. Every one of Murray's men played to win, and the rapidity with which the outfield handled the long hits caused much comment. Bresnahan was in the box for Lima and put up his usual pretty game; only six hits were made off his delivery. The Indians found the sphere, but from some cause they were unable to hit it to safe territory. Lima made six runs in the fifth inning, and from then on there was no question as to which of the two clubs would start off with a standing of 1,000 per cent.

This was the score:

NOTES.

Kachen and Murray played an errorless game on first and second.

Piqua's three new infielders have greatly strengthened that team.

With a league umpire we can now see more base ball and less quarrelling.

Covert's slide, while attempting to throw a man out at first, was one of the features of the game.

The Bresnahan brothers make an excellent battery. Their work is as pretty as any one could wish to see.

McCarthy succeeded in landing on the balloon five times yesterday. He stood second in the batting list yesterday.

Emmet, the man who umpired the game, has a good voice, but he needs to become more informed on the rules of the game.

Murray was the only man yesterday that received no hits. But he was in the game to win and his sacrifices helped to raise the score.

Justice made a beautiful stop of a "hot" liner in the seventh inning, and it was loudly applauded. He is a player that is always in the game.

Burt is developing into a star hitter. His batting average yesterday was 1.000. He was at the bat four times and was credited with three singles and a two-bagger.

Hunter is now finding a high ball as well as a low one. He went to the bat six times yesterday and got four hits from 22 many high balls. He is a dangerous man with a bat and is hard to lose.

RIGHT OF WAY

Being Secured on the South Side by the L. E. & W.

PARALLELS THE C., H. & D.

The Company Preparing to Abandon Its Present Right of Way, Which Was Obtained by Lease from the C. H. & D.—Other News.

It was rumored when the right of way was secured for the Dayton Northern Railroad Company, and the city terminals of the D. & L. N. and Ohio Southern roads were made over this route to the new depot on east Wayne street, that the L. E. & W. people would abandon their present right of way sooner or later and use same terminal that the D. & L. N. and O. S. are now using. There were no grounds for this rumor, however, except that the Brice people were said to be connected with the O. S. and D. & L. N., as well as the L. E. & W., and more recent developments prove beyond a doubt that the rumors were unfounded. As has been previously stated, the right of way that the L. E. & W. is now using between the C. & E. R. R. and the O. H. & D. depot belongs to the O. H. & D. and is being used under a time lease from the latter road. This lease will expire in August, 1899, and owing to the rivalry existing at present between the two companies it is only reasonable to suppose that the lease cannot be renewed. However, recent developments go to show that the L. E. & W. people do not intend to use the D. & L. N. city terminals and neither do they intend to attempt to renew their lease with the C. H. & D.; they are securing an entirely new right of way. Right of way agents are already at work and, furthermore, the proposed right of way again parallels that of the C. H. & D. Judging from the visits to property owners and statements made by a right of way agent, the new right of way will extend from Vine street to a point near St. John's avenue on the west side of the C. H. & D. and from there north, will parallel the C. H. & D. on the east. The
